

WA Defence Force 1861-1901

A new website has been launched that documents the history of the units and soldiers of the Western Australian Defence Force and their deployments between 1861-1901. This site fills many gaps in our military history see:

We heartily commend this site to those of us interested in the era and who have military family of the time ... you may find an Enrolled Pensioner Guard (EPG) or two!

Congratulations to Luca Muir Anderson on his research work for this website.

It builds on the amazing trove of information available online, see the Research section of the EPG website for more information
